INDEX

TO

The Field Artillery Journal

VOLUME II

1912

WASHINGTON, D. C.
THE UNITED STATES FIELD ARTILLERY ASSOCIATION
1912

COPYRIGHT
THE UNITED STATES FIELD ARTILLERY ASSOCIATION
1912

CONTENTS

No. 1.

The Deport Field Gun ..... Frontispiece
Field Service Exercises for a Battalion of Light Artillery.—Maj. G. Aubrat (Continued) 7
Field Artillery Matériel of Great Field of Fire.—Lt. Col. A. Deport 53
New German Field Artillery Firing Regulations 73
Organization and Tactics of the Japanese Field Artillery.—Gen. Richter 79
The Problem of Clearing the Mask.—Lt. Sherman Miles 92
The Field Artillery of the United States Army.—Lt. Col. John E. McMahon 95
Sparta, 1911.—Capt. Robert H. Tyndall 109
New Russian Guns 112
The School of Fire for Field Artillery 116
"Gunnery and Explosives" 120
The Light Artillery Saber 120
Wanted—Translators 121
Diaries of Equitation Work at the Mounted Service School 122
Current Literature 129
Field Artillery Directory 140

No. 2.

The Deport Mountain Gun ..... Frontispiece
Field Service Exercises for a Battalion of Light Artillery.—Maj. Aubrat 147
Notes on the German Maneuvers.—Capt. Scott 190
Fire for Effect.—Maj. McNair 219
Notes on the Course at the School of Fire.—Capt. Burt 235
The French Field Artillery Drill Regulations 254
The Deport Field Gun in Italy 269
The Deport Mountain Gun 271
Diaries of Equitation Work at the Mounted Service School 273
Current Literature 283
Field Artillery Directory 295

307823

CONTENTS

No. 3.

"Ultimus"---Frontispiece

Field Service Exercises for a Battalion of Light Artillery.—Maj. Aubrat_ 301

Kentucky Stud Farms.—Lieut. Danford---355

Notes on the Course at the School of Fire.—Capt. Burt---386

Diaries of Equitation Work at the Mounted Service School---439

Current Literature---458

Field Artillery Directory---468

No. 4.

"Aberdeen"---Frontispiece

Field Service Exercises for a Battalion of Light Artillery.—Maj. Aubrat_ 475

The Most Suitable Type of Horse for Field Artillery.—Maj. Summerall_ 529

The Artillery Combat and the Methods of Fire of the Counter Battery.—Maj. Buat---541

Notes on the Parallax Method.—Maj. Fleming---558

Notes on the Employment of Special Details---566

French Field Artillery Drill Regulations---579

Artillery Support to the Infantry Attack.—Maj. Horn---600

Night Target Practice for Field Artillery.—Capt. Deems---626

Italian Field Guns---630

The Newest Type of Japanese Mountain Gun---635

Austrian Observation Ladder and Bridge Equipment---639

Current Literature---645

Annual Meeting, Field Artillery Association---655

Field Artillery Directory---656

The Field Artillery Journal

CONTENTS

The Deport Field Gun ..... Frontispiece.

Field Service Exercises for a Battalion of Light Artillery.—Maj. G. Aubrat (Continued) 7

Field Artillery Matériel of Great Field of Fire.—Lt. Col. A. Deport 53

New German Field Artillery Firing Regulations 73

Organization and Tactics of the Japanese Field Artillery.—Gen. Richter 79

The Problem of Clearing the Mask.—Lt. Sherman Miles 92

The Field Artillery of the United States Army.—Lt. Col. John E. McMahon 95

Sparta, 1911.—Capt. Robert H. Tyndall 109

New Russian Guns 112

The School of Fire for Field Artillery 116

"Gunnery and Explosives" 120

The Light Artillery Saber 120

Wanted—Translators 121

Diaries of Equitation Work at the Mounted Service School 122

Current Literature 129

Field Artillery Directory 140

Entered as second-class matter, March 14, 1911, at the Postoffice at Washington, D. C.

Copyright, 1912, by the U. S. Field Artillery Association.

The United States Field Artillery Association

ORGANIZED JUNE 7, 1910

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Brigadier-General M. M. Macomb, U. S. Army.

Lieutenant-Colonel John E. McMahon, General Staff, U. S. Army.

Major Wm. J. Snow, Third Field Artillery, U. S. Army.

Captain John F. O'Ryan, First Battery, National Guard, State of New York.

Captain Robert H. Tyndall, Battery A, National Guard, State of Indiana.

OFFICERS

PRESIDENT: Brigadier-General M. M. Macomb, U. S. Army.

VICE-PRESIDENT: Colonel E. St. J. Greble, General Staff, U. S. Army.

SECRETARY-EDITOR: Captain Oliver L. Spaulding, jr., Fifth Field Artillery, U. S. Army.

TREASURER: Major Wm. J. Snow, Third Field Artillery, U. S. Army.